Rev Greg Harris

Greg Harris is the National Director of Bush Church Aid. He was raised in western Sydney, after finishing school, Greg moved to Armidale NSW for further study and discovered his passion and love of regional and rural Australia. At the University of New England, he studied a degree in environmental management and attended the St Mark's Chapel. After working as a Youth Worker at Moree Anglican Church and 2 years working as a farm hand on a Moree cotton property, Greg continued his path towards ordained ministry by attending Moore Theological College as an Armidale Candidate. After theological college he served as the Vicar of Collarenebri, the Vicar of Guyra and then the Rector of South East Bendigo. Presently Greg is the BCA National Director. Greg has two passions: namely thinking strategically about ministry and a deep desire for country people to know Jesus. Greg and his wife Karen have two sons. His interests include most sports, particularly cricket, AFL, Formula 1, and NFL. "I try and stay fit as best I can with my frequent ministry trips". Greg enjoys playing guitar or bass and leading music at church. Downtime includes spending time with Karen, watching TV shows that make him laugh, listening to music (often loud in the car by himself and often country music), or enjoying coffee or a beverage with family or friends. When he is not on the road, Karen and Greg attend St Phillip's Anglican Church in South Turrumurra.

Dr Warwick Stiller

Dr Warwick Stiller was born and raised in a Christian family on a small mixed fam near Guluguba in Queensland. He was always intersted in farming and studied agriculture at the University id Qld before completing a PhD through the University of Sydney. Warwick has worked for CSIRO at Narrabri since 1998 and now leads new and improved cotton varieties for Australia and the world. Warwick has a passion for explaining to people (particularly other Christians) that science and Christianity can mix - you can be a world leading scientist and still reply on God!

"What is Jesus doing now?"

Have you ever wondered what Jesus is doing now? The gospel accounts report Jesus' many activities while he was on earth, culminating with his death, his resurrection, and his ascension. It was in many ways an eventful few years that has changed eternity for countless people. But what about since then? We remind ourselves that Jesus has died, he is risen, and he will come again. Between those last two declarations there is a lot of time, and we could very well ask - 'What on earth has Jesus been doing for the last 2,000 years?' Together we will explore the scriptures for answers to that question and see how that impacts our Christian journey now and in the days ahead.
